SUGGESTIONS**

Firstly—We would suggest that you inspect our immense and choice stock of new Spring Silks before you make your purchases. We use no words to induce you to buy. The silks must speak for themselves. Their prettiness and exclusiveness of designs, their goodness in quality and lowness in price will be eloquent demonstrations of their worthiness even to the poorest silk judge.

Secondly—We do not know whether to suggest plain Taffetas or fancy Silks—they are all so pretty and stylish. We merely mention prices, ask you to compare and make your choice. Plain Taffetas in all colors at 40c and 50c; in Black also at 40c and 50c. Our stock of Fancy Silks was never so large and select. They come in the new insertion and corded effects; prices 70c, 80c, 90c, 1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00, 3.50, 4.00, 4.50, 5.00, 5.50, 6.00, 6.50, 7.00, 7.50, 8.00, 8.50, 9.00, 9.50, 10.00, 10.50, A large number of log rafts left High Bridge in Kentucky river for the Lower Ohio. As they passed Frankfort they had up white flags, showing they were not going to shoot anybody, as it had been reported when they left their starting point.

Captain D. A. Woodward has been reinstated as a master and pilot, and the license of Captain Harry Swaney has been suspended for sixty days by order of Major S. R. Cumbagh, Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. This ends the controversy as to who is responsible for the sinking of the towboat Pacific, which met in collision on December 13, last, with the Charley Clark. The decision of the Supervising Inspector is final. Captain Swaney's suspension will date from April 2. He is at present master of the John W. Allen. The decision is a matter of much comment among steamboatmen, the restoration of Captain Woodward's license and the suspension of Captain Swaney's being a matter that is hard to understand by those who have watched the case. To those, however, who have not watched the case the decision is regarded as being somewhat of a "stunner."

PRESERVE THE RECORD

THAT FRANKFORT MEETING!

Have Kentuckians Lost the Right to Peaceably Assemble?

Louisville Evening Post.

There is a disposition in certain quarters to deny to any of the opponents of the Democratic organization, whether they call themselves Democrats, Republicans or Populists, the right of free speech, the right of peaceably assembling to consider their grievances, the right to petition the authorities for redress of those grievances.

All of these rights are supposed to be secured to every citizen in Kentucky by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. In accordance with the presumption that they were free citizens of a free Commonwealth, a number of the people of Kentucky from distant counties assembled at the city of Frankfort Thursday, the 25th of January, 1900. Their coming excited great indignation among certain gentlemen who had been terrorizing the Legislature for three or four years. It seemed to them an invasion of their special territory and an intrusion upon their field of operations.

This indignation has gone so far as to the extent that it is now considered almost treasonable for anyone to acknowledge that he participated in that gathering or that he in any way advised or consented to it, and yet it was a perfectly harmless gathering of citizens, greatly concerned by the course of their alleged representatives in the Legislature, who felt some apprehension as to the future of the Government established in Kentucky by their forefathers. To show how perfectly harmless and free from threats and intimidation this meeting was, we reproduce herewith the resolutions adopted by the mass meeting which assembled in Frankfort on the Statehouse steps on January 25th:

"We Kentuckians here assembled, in token of all the 'free and equal' men of Kentucky, do reassert the great and essential principles of liberty and free government proclaimed in the Bill of Rights, not as derived to us therefrom, but as 'inherent.'"

"Our property we may alienate from ourselves and our children, but our liberty is a heritage in trust for all generations, and we may neither surrender nor encumber it. We declare again the prerogative of 'freely communicating our thoughts and opinions,' and to assemble together in a peaceable manner for our common good and the good of our fellowmen of Kentucky."

"More especially do we declare our right and authority, conferred on us by Almighty power, and not otherwise, of applying to those invested with the power of government, by either petition or remonstrance."

"And there we present to them our brethren of Kentucky, our agents in Legislature convened, that the Government of Kentucky be preserved."

The eleventh renewal of the Kentucky Futurity has closed with 1,427 nominations, the largest in the history of the stake. ment of Kentucky is founded on our authority and instituted for our peace, safety and happiness and our protection of property, our own and theirs, as well as of the stranger within our gates.

"We urge on them our proxies in the General Assembly to heed that there is a peril hovering over all those things so dear to us and to them, and that calmness and prudence and wisdom need be invoked in order that truth and justice may prevail, and we exercise our right of 'remonstrance' against their suffering themselves to be led into the temptation of partisan pride or party predilection in the crisis which is upon us."

"We beseech them to remember that their own just powers were loaned them by us at the polls, and that among those was the jurisdiction to decide judicially and by due process of law, and not otherwise, was then our expressed will, not their present political preferences."

"We implore them that they do not on slight or technical pretexts nor flimsy nor of trivial causes hazard the subversion of that supreme law of the land, the will of the people."

"We beg of them that they receive from the hands of our messengers and consider, and do not spurn or despise this, our earnest address, petition and remonstrance, and they by their considerate action protect, preserve and promote the safety, welfare and, above all, the honor of Kentucky committed to their keeping."

The very phraseology of these resolutions show their origin. They come down from the Magna Charta through the various channels that have brought freedom of speech, liberty of action and freedom of conscience to this generation. The language is somewhat archaic, but it is the language of our Bill of Rights, and, slightly modified, it may be found in the Magna Charta itself.

And is it treason to utter these sentiments? Is it treason for the people of Kentucky to petition their representatives? Is it treason for free-born people to call the attention of the General Assembly to the peril hovering over privileges dear to our law-abiding fellow-citizens?

In our judgment the principles here declared cannot be declared too often; cannot too often be brought to the attention of members of the Legislature, and especially members of the Legislature of Kentucky of this generation. The course of the Legislature for the past five years has been a consistent course of usurpation—a course in direct conflict with the restrictions of the Constitution, in open defiance of popular rights. The time will come when the resolutions of January 25th will be adopted as the opinion of the whole people. There will be no man to dispute either the wisdom or the necessity of utterance.
